THE CHARLESTON.

Arrival of the Cruiser at Santa Barbara.

She Receives a Rough Baptism From Old Neptune

Behaves Handsomely Stormy Weather.

Her Engines Do Their Work Almos Perfectly-The Test so Far Successful-To be Tried Further.

Sy Telegraph to The Times.

SANTA BARBARA, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The United States cruiser Charleston arrived here on her trial trip about 5:30 p.m., making under easy steam during the last portion of her trip a little more than 14 knots per hour.

more than 14 knots per hour.
The cruiser left Mission Rock, San Francisco Bay, at 5:48 o'clock on Tuesday morning under a cloudless sky. The scene presented on the deck of the cruiser was in sharp contrast to the smart appearance of the American man-of-war in commission. In the circular berth wards, front and aft, In the circular berth wards, front and aft, where eight-inch rified guns are to find position, and in the sponsings for the accommodation of six-inch guns, were piled pig-iron bars in sufficient number to represent the weight of the powerful guns. The brass railings and mountings lacked polish, while a great portion of the wood and metal work was covered with tarpaulins for protection. On the berth deek sleeping accommodations had been improvised for those on board in the shape of straw mattresses, pillows and blankets, while lanterns were suspended in the wardrooms and passage-ways for lighting purposes in lieu of the electric-light plant, which is not yet complete. Apart from these features, which had no bearings upon the working capacity of the cruiser, she was in readiness to attempt the duty assigned her of developing 2000 horse power by her two compound engines for four consecutive hours, a more severe test, it is slaimed, than any to which ships of war are usually subjected in making tests of power and speed.

The cruiser was in command of Capt. Charles M. Goodall. The official inspection board of United States naval officers, consisting of Commodore A. E. K. Benham, Commander Henry Glass, Naval Construct Joseph Feaster, Lieut. E. F. Qualtrough and Chief Engineer R. L. Harris, as representative of the Union Iron Works, were on board. THE INSPECTING OFFICERS ward into the sea, which was coming almost directly head on, the waves rising higher and coming with increasing violence. Be-sides breaking forward the water began to come over the starboard side of the main-deck. The cruiser held steadily on, rolling a little but dipping down sharply after ris-ing on a big wave, lifting the stern high in the air. During the roughest portion of the massage both screws at various stages were completely out of water.

IN A TROUGH OF THE SEA.

At one time the Charleston took a dip into a trough of the sea, and immediately Sea. BEHAVING HANDSOMELY.

From 10 o'clock until 1 o'clock in the afternoon the engines were allowed to exhibit a little more power, and the cruiser's progress indicated an even speed of 11 knots. When off Santa Cruz the engines were slowed down on account of a sirght tendency to heating shown by the crosshead of one of the high-pressure cylinders, and were finally stopped to put a -shim under the crosshead to relieve the tendency.

The engines were again started at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and were run steadily to Santa Barbara at a gradually increasing speed without showing further heating.

the run.

During the four hours' run from off Point Bench to Point Concepcion, ending at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the speed of the cruiser averaged thirteen and three-tenths knots per hour. From Point Concepcion to Santa Barbara the engines were maintained at a steadily increasing speed, and the cruiser exhibited a maximum speed of fourteen and twelve-hundredths knots during the last stage of the run to this port.

A decision will probably be reached tomorrow morning as to when the four-hour run to test the engine power will take place in the channel.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Allotments of Money Appropriated for the Militia.

Washington, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The War Department has just completed and published the allotments of the $400,000 appropriated by Concress for the coulement of militia. The just completed and published the allotments of the $400,000 appropriated by Congress for the equipment of militia. The allotments are based on the representation of States in Congress, and in the case of Territories about to become States the apportionments show the amounts to which they will be entitled after this has occurred. California will receive $7594; Colorado, $2847; Novada, $2847; Oregon, $2847; Montana, Washington and North Dakota, $2847 each; South Dakota, $3707; Alaska and New Mexico, $3501 each.
The Interstate Commerce Commission devoted the session to hearing representatives of western railroads in the matter of mileaze allowances on ears furnished by shippers, car companies, individuals and connecting lines. Between 40 and 50 railroad men were present. The general allowance was found to be three-quarters of a cent per mile, though some of the great meat companies had been allowed 1 cent.

From Liverpool to New York in Less Than Six Days.

New York, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The City of Paris, of the Inman Press. The City of Paris, of the Inman line, arrived at Sandy Hook at 11:15 today from Liverpool. She broke all records from Queenstown. Her corrected time was 5 days, 23 hours, 7 minutes. The best previous record was by the Etruria—6 days, 1 hour, 34 minutes.

It is the first voyage across the Atlantic made in less than six days. There were many men in maritime circles who prophesied that the trip would never be made in less than that time. On the first day out from Liverpool the City of Paris covered 445 miles; on the next day, 404; on the third, 505; on the fourth, 511; on the fifth, 505; and in the last fraction of a dzy, 392. She also broke the daily record, for her run of 511 miles is the longest, yot made in a single day, the previous best record being 506, made by the Umbria, of the Cunard line.

COAST DEFENSES.

GEN. MILES BEFORE THE SEN ATE COMMITTEE.

Readily Fortified $23,000,000 Needed for Forts and Guns On the Pacific.

The LOT, OXIOS, the many distributions of the commander of the engines, chained of the committee with canada, stated today if 5 for the formander of the commander of the comman sured the Senators that this harbor was the easiest in the United States to naturally defend. He would have mortar guns on the ocean beach, and occupy Points Lobos, Fort Thorn, Point Bonita, Peint Diablo, Lake Point and Point Cavallo with powerful guns. At the three last named points he would have dynamite guns. He would have three complete lines of defense, the last being marked by Fort Mason, Angel Island and Alcatraz. As a rough estimate he thought $25,000,000 would be sufficient to make the entire coast defense all that could be desired. There was no reason why all the guns necessary should not be made on this coast, the raw materials being in much more abundance than in the British possess sions north of the United States.

In response to questions from Senator Dolph, Gen. Miles said that proper fortifications at Point Wilson, Milesion and Admiralty Reef in the Columbia River and Puget Sound section would easily protect the interior region against any foreign naval force. The British fortifications on Vancouver Island are in his judgment-valued independently of their proximity to the United States.

"In other words," said Senator Allison, "even if we might buy British Columbia the British would still desire to retain Vancouver."

The committee will tomorrow by invitation of Gen. Miles visit the various fortifications of the harbor.

At the afternoon session a letter from Goodall, Perkins & Co. was read, relative to the steamship traffic between British Columbian and American coast ports. It was predicted that in time Canadian vessels would run in competition with the Pacific Coast steamers, and the encouragement given to British Steamship companies by the British Government, in contrast to the action of our Government, was commenced upon.

Cant. Goodall stated a number of facts not contrained in the letter, and said that of A Sun Dance Threatened.

FORT CUSTER (Mont.), May 8,—Responsible parties just in from Samedor, Mont., report that a large party of Pine Ridge Sioux, led by Grasshopper, have come into the Tongue River agency for the purpose of getting up a sun dance among the Cheyennes. The Cheyennes are in sympathy with the Sioux, and the sun dance will certainly be held unless the Indians are overawed by the presence of a large body of troops. The Crow outbreak of last summer had its origin in a sun dance gotten up by Grasshopper and held at the same place.

Other Eastern Dispatches--A Pecullarly Atroclous Murder In Iowa-Great Gale in the

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, May 8.—[By the Associated Press.] A dispatch from New York says that Irish Nationalists there appear convinced that Dr. Cronin was assassinated in Chicago. In a general way, without giving the source of information, it is stated that at a meeting of an Irish organization in Chicago to vindicate Alexander Sullivan against the charges by Cronin, a resolution was offered practically sentencing Cronin was offered practically sentencing Cronin was offered practically sentencing Cronin and others to death, but it was defeated; that the fact became known, and a friend of Cronin advised recourse to the courts, but found it useless, as no one who knew the facts dared to testfiry. The story goes on to say that Cronin's attacks on Sullivan in the Celto-American, charging him with getting Le Caron into membership of the Clan-na-Gael, widened the breach and may have prompted some foolhardy friend of Sullivan to commit the murder.

John Devoy, Michael Bressiin and others sent a dispatch to friends of Cronin in Chicago yesterday offering to raise money to hunt do wn the assassins of Cronin.

Dr. W. M. Wallace, a particular friend of Cronin, believes him to have been murdered by individuals who blame him as a medical practitioner for the death of some dear one whom he had treated, and that it is not a political murder at all.

In this city nothing definite has been learned in the Cronin mystery today. His friends talk of offering a reward for information or the recovery of the body. It is proposed to drag the north branch of the river tomorrow. Mr. Conklin, with whom the Dostor lived, still adheres to his belief of foul play. He will not tell to whom he gave the private papers of Cronin, mentioned in these dispatches last night.

With the wind came the desired rain, which in many cases lasted for hours and penetrated the ground for several inches. The benefit is greater than the damage could possibly be. The reviving rains continued today. Everyone rejoices.

Mysterious Murder of a Young Woman in Iowa.

SIBLEY (lowa), May S.—IBy the Associated Press.] Mrs. Carrie Furrell left the home of her husband on Monday morning, for a visit to her parents, living two miles away. Leaving there in the evening she was a field to the took a diagonal course across a field to the main road. By this route she was obliged to pass an unfrequented bridge crossing a slough. She was on horseback, and here ers, came up in the Federal Court today, and on motion of the District Attorney the indictments were stricken from the docket, the defendants having been couvicted in the State courts. Bowles and Smith, indicted at the same time, but who turned informers, were allowed to go on their own recognizance. This is the final step in the great fight of last year between the Burlington road and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Made Good Their Escape.
COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.), May 8.—
There are no new developments in the Florissant hold-up today. Sheriff Jackson, who left this city with a deputy last night, found the body of one of the robbers in the cañon where he was shot. The bedy has not been identified. The wounded robber and his comrades have bidden themselves in the mountains, and there is but little hope of catching them.

Congressman Vandever Tells Why the Appropriation for the Government Building Was Not Increased-Its Inadequacy Gener-

The Chamber of Commerce met in regular session at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at its rooms on First street, President Jones in the chair and Sec retary Higgins at his desk. There was a good attendance and a very im-portant meeting was held.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A resolution was introduced changthe number of members required to constitute a quorum in meetings of the Board of Directors, making it five instead of nine. The rule was sus-pended and the resolution adopted. The rule regulating the order of business was suspended while Gen.

instead on the resolution adopted.

The rule regulating the order of business was suspended while Gen. Vandever addressed the meeting. The General was then introduced, and stepping to the platform he said:

"Los Angeles has become the most important city on the coast outside of San Francisco, and it is very important that our citizens should become public spirited. Los Angeles is the center of this great Southern California, and I am informed on good authority that we have at least 100,000 people in this city, and we need a much larger building than the present plans for the Federal building would indicate. When the appropriation was made the city had a population of but 40,000 and it is not at all wonderful that a larger appropriation was not made." The General then went on to say that he might have secured an additional appropriation had not the Board of Trade urged upon the department at Washington to begin the construction of the building at once. Theeboard, or its officers, stated that they wanted the architects to perfect the plans at once, and commence the construction of the building. This information went to the building committee and all chance for an additional appropriation was cut off and the contract was let although we all knew that the appropriation was inadequate. The General then read letters showing that letters written by Mr. Germain, president of the Board of Trade, had prevented his (Gen. Vandever) securing an increase of the appropriation. The letters from Mr. Germain were to the effect that the postoffice had been removed ten blocks from the business center, and for that reason the board wanted the Secretary of the Treasury to hurry up the building. "I can very readily understand Mr. Germain's anxiety about the building.

of the Treasury to hurry building.
"I can very readily understand Mr.
Germain's anxiety about the building, but I want you gentlemen to understand that I was doing all, in my power for your city, but with such letters coming from the representative business men of this city my hands were tied, and I could do nothing. You must know that I requires a hard struggle to secure an appropri-You must know that it requires a hard struggle to secure an appropriation of any kind. additional appropriation can be secured.

"Now as to the other matter. We want to get everything we raise to the sea. We must have a harbor, and the Government should supply it. I appreciate the necessities of this community, and I will give all of my energy and influence for that end. It is impossible for San Francisco to do the business of this coast. It would be juist as hard for New York to do the impossible for San Francisco to do the business of this coast. It would be just as hard for New York to do the business for a thousand miles up and down the Atlantic Coast. It is very hard to get anything through for Southern California, for the reason that they look upon us as a very small branch of California. But at the last election our votes showed that we are larger than any two of the other of Louse on Main street, the property in which the Bank of Los Angeles is situated, and 3785 acres of the Rancho de Bartolo Viejo. In April, 1883, this valuable property such the Bank of Los Angeles is situated, and 3785 acres of the Rancho de Bartolo Viejo. In April, 1883, this valuable property was heavily incumbered. It was then valued at $225,000, a small part of its present value. At that the Los and see what a country we have. There are always men in Congress who fight river and harbor bills. They are men from interior places, awy from the sea and rivers. They generally live in small towns. For this reason there were no river and harbor appropriations, and at the next session I expect a very lively time, as there will be a general clamor fer such appropriations. It is the business of such lawmakers. They generations. It is the business of such lawmakers as strongly as possible, so that they can be properly placed before the lawmakers. The speaker then took up the Lower California question. He looks upon it as a serious question, for the reason that a big English syndicate is getting control of that country, and now they are bringing 'Chinese in to work in the mines. He was bitterly opposed to the English syndicate.

He then spoke of public patronage. He said it was a very small matter. He closed his speech in a neat little compliment to Southern California.

Thomas, A. Lewis moved that an invitation be sent to the Senatorial committee to visit Southern California. The motion was carried, and it was suggested that the invitation be placed in the hands of Gen. Vandever, who was to go up on last night's train.

Mr. Jacobs, superintendent of the Federal building, was invited to address the chamber. The gentleman stated that he is confident that the building will be inadequatn, as it will not accommodate the officials. He stated that there is quite a serious question as to what shall be done. He stated that work can be suspended before the roof is put on, so that an additional appropriation can be secured at the extra session in October. He said he appropriation can be secured at the extra session in October. He said he would do all in his power to convince the department that the building will be inadequate.

Bremen, the Man Who Was Tarred and Feathered, Tells His Story-Odell Gives Some Valuable Testimony and Then Plays Clam.

The examination was commenced yesterday morning, in Justice Lock-wood's court, of the men charged with administering a coat of tar and feath ers to Gus Bremen, at San Pedro, the night of April 23d. The defendants, James T. Hogan, R. J. Brown, J. J. Koughan, Thomas Thompson, Henry Hendrickson, George Morris, Harvey Lund, S. C. Wilhite, John L. Hermann and William E. Watts, were in court, and a large array of witnesses from San Pedro. Nearly twenty witnesses for the prosecution and half a dozen for the defense were marshaled into the little courtroom and sworn. Their examination was not half finished when court adjourned late in the afternoon. The charge against the men is assault with intent to do great bodily injury. If they are held and convicted by the Superior Court, a two years' imprisonment sentence can be im-pay, and this caused a coolness between them, and the trouble was increased when Munson befriended Short's wife, after she had been beaten by her husband, since which time they have had comparatively little to do with one another. Yesterday, according to the statements of the barkeepers and others about the Carleton, Short came into the place several times looking for Munson, with the avowed intention of doing him up. He was accompanied by Tom Philbin, and one of the barkeepers stated that he threw a $20 gold piece on the counter, and wanted to bet that Short could whip Munson. Munson was out riding during the afternoon, and as soon as he came in his friends told him that Short had been looking for him with a gun, and that he he he better see him and it meets. posed, and a fine.

The now familiar story of Gus Bremen's amatory relations with a skipper's wife, and his subsequent arrest of the skipper through fear, was not brought out yesterday. The witnesses on the stand were those only who knew

In the meantime the police had been notified, and Officer Jackson was sent out to Short's house, on Sixth street and Grand avenue, where he arrived just as Short was going in. He placed him under arrest and took him to the police station, where he was locked up on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He will be examined today if Monson is able to appear in court.

About 8:30 °2clock Tom Philbin rushed into the police station with his face looking as though he had come in collision with the side of a house. He said that a man named Pete Sweeney had smashed him at the Carleton, and he wanted Peter arrested forth with and mentioned, in spite of the searching questions of counsel.

A SAD CASE. Mrs. Harris Crazed by Separation From Her Children Yesterday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock a telephone message was received at the police station, saying that a crazy woman was roaming about the neighborhood of Pico and Virginia San Francisco in the case of the Savings and Loan Society vs. Pio Pico. Under the heavyload of incumbrances and liens of every description, it looked as if a magnificent estate would go to pieces. An arrangement was made with B. Cohn by which the latter was to advance the money necessary to lift the load. An agreement was made between them, by which the property was deeded to Cohn, with the understanding, as Pio Pico claims, that it was to be re-deeded to him when the advanced money was paid back. The arrangement was perfected, and the property redeemed. But when Pico wanted the property back, the agreement was repudiated by Cohn, who claimed the property redeemed. But when Pico Wanted the property back, the agreement was repudiated by Cohn, who claimed a certain aggregate amount of the loan, larger than the plaintiff admitted, and afterward, it is alleged, wanted $185,000.

The controversy de-eloped into a lengthy litigation, in which Cohn claimed the legal title. Pio Pico secured a favorable decision. A new trial was secured, however, and January I7, 1887, Cohn sequred a decision in his favor.

The new complaint recites all these facts, and sets up as a cause for reopening the matter and securing a rehearing that evidence has been secured showing that a witness named Johnson, now deceased, had been the part of the defendants. The claim is that Johnson confessed to his daughter and others before death that he had perjured himself, but that the defendants spirited him away, and he died before the plaintiff found out the true state of the case. This evidence it alleges is material, as Johnson was the only witness to the original agreement between Pico and Cohn, which the latter afterward repudiated. The plaintiff claims that he will be able to show indisputably that he has been grossly defrauded. He prays that there shall be a rehearing; that the shall be a rehearing; that the shall be a rehearing. FIRE COMMISSION.

A Committee to Frame a New Fire Ordinance.

The Fire Commissioners met in the Mayor's office yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, with His Honor presiding, and Commissioner Kuhrts, Keefe and Marsh present. Before the reading of the minutes was concluded, however, Mr. Lovell arrived, thus making a full

A communication was received from the Council asking that the commissioners have a fire-plug placed on Seventh street, west of Pearl, for the purpose of flus hing the sewers. Referred to the Chief for investigation. A communication was also received from the Council asking that the com-mission frame a new fire coding mission frame a new fire ordinance. Referred to a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Kuhrts, Keefe and Marsh, to act in conjunction with the Chief.

Chief.

A petition from A. N. Hamilton asking that two young men be allowed to erect a tent at the corner of Fort and Second streets was denied, as it was against the fire ordinance.

The petition of Doyle & Isaac, to be allowed to erect a board fence in front of their theater on Main street, was denied, it being stated that it was the intention of the proprietors of the place to roof over the space and evade the law by nutting up a wood front at the law by putting up a wood front, at the same time increasing the seating capacity of the place. Several applications for positions were received, among them one from W. A. Dussey, who wants to be an en-cineer covering the sheets of foolscan gineer, covering tive sheets of foolscap. The whole lot were placed on file

The whole lot were placed on file, there being no vacancies.

The usual weekly bills were presented and ordered paid.

Chief Strohm stated that the Los Angeles Water Company had made a proposition to connect all the sprinkling hydrants with the mains, maintain and keep the same in repair, and furnish water for street sprinkling purposes for $2.50 per month for each hydrant. The company would also put in new hydrants wherever ordered for the same price.

This is substantially the same proposition which was submitted to the old commissioners during Mayor Work-sition which was submitted to the old commissioners during Mayor Workman's term and which was rejected. The proposition caused a great deal of debate, Mr. Kuhrts favoring it and Mayor Hazard opposing it. Mr. Hazard then moved that the commissioners coöperate with the Chief of the Fire Department to see whether or not it was not practicable to take water for sprinkling purposes direct from the fire plugs as is done in Denver and other cities.

Mr. Kuhrts objected to this on the wer and other cities.

Mr. Kuhrts objected to this on the ground that by using the fire hydrants they are liable to get out of order, and said that this had been tried and proved a failure.

Mr. Hazard could not see it in this ight and thought that by using the fire hydrants they could always be kept in order for fire purposes.

There was a good deal of talk over the matter, but without coming to a definite conclusion the board ad-journed.

ANOTHER CLAIMANT

Who Contests Mr. Brock's Rights

Alvin D. Brock is not to be allowed to hold undisputed possession of the eighth interest in 700 acres of the alos Verdes rancho, just awar im by Judge Van Dyks. A singi to light yesterday by the commence ment of proceedings against him in the Superior Court, attacking his right to a possession of any interest. A complaint was filed by J. K. Tuffree. The San Pedro Harbor, Dock and Land Association, the Southern Pacific Railroad Extension Company J. W. Pearson et al. are included with Brock as defendants. It will be re-membered that Brock secured a con-tract for the valuable property from A. W. Timms; that he afterward sold it to Pearson for a one-fourth interest in the land; that Pearson repudiated the agreement, and Brock, after long litigation, had his interest awarded to him by the court last week. A part only of the land was sold to the South-ern Pacific Railroad Extension Com-pany for $250,000. The entire tract is at San Pedro, and very valuable, J. K. J. R. Tuffree now alleges that when Brock made his original contract with Timms, it was for him, and that Brock was only acting as his agent. He claims that it was he who conceived the idea of making the purchase, knowing or believing that the Southern Pacific would need a portion of it in Pacific would need a portion of it in completing its enterprises at San Pedro. He alleges that he employed Brock to negotiate the contract with Timms, and that Brock fraudulently had it made out in his own name; that all the subsequent proceedings were a fraud, and it is he and not Brock who is entitled to the benefits of the deal. He therefore prays that the Court decree that the defendants be required to execute the proper deeds transferring the land to him, upon payment of the purchase price originally agreed upon between Brock and Timms. He also prays that Brock and the other defendants be declared to have no right, title or interest in the land.

POLICE.

The Commissioners' Adjourn Until

Today.

The Board of Police Commissioners met in regular weekly session at the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon. Mr. Bilderrain was the first member to come in, and was followed by Mayor Hazard. A few minutes were spent in "joshing," when Mr. Dexter arrived, closely followed by Chief Burns. Then Mr. Lindley dropped in, and there was a general interchange of courtesies and handshaking. Mr. Knox brought up the rear and took up his position gracefully against the wall, when the Mayor stated that as all the members were present they had better come to order.

As soon as this was done Mr. Lind-As soon as this was done Mr. Lindley stated that as Gen. Vandever wat in the city, and there was an important meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, at which it was desirable that all the members of the commission should be present, and he therefore moved that an adjournment be taken until this morning at 10 o'clock. There was some demur against this on account of the hour, when Mr. Hazard suggested that it be changed to 2 o'clock. This was satisfactory to all hands, and it was unanimously passed.

all hands, and it was unanimously passed.

There was a good deal of disappointment all around, as it was expected that the meeting would be a very lively one, growing out of the proposed changes. All of the members deny that there is likely to be anything like a general reorganization, but there is certainly something in contemplation, and although it may be deferred for a week or two, it is certain to come.

TIE AND TRACK.

VIEWING THE SANTA FE ELEC-TION ASKANCE.

Number of Bright Railroad Schemes That Seem to Be Hanging Fire-Roads That Will Not Co-operate to Reduce Time.

As this is the day set for the Santa Fé election, the boys about the general office in the Phillips block, on North Spring street, are very uneasy. The idea that there will be several changes in the heads of departments has gained ground rapidly during the past two or three weeks, and no one knows where the ax may fall when it gets in swinging motion. The principal stockholders have indulged in various disagreeable antics regarding the coast management for some time past, and seem to forget that railroading in the West is altogether different from eastern business. A man who may be a prince among railroad men in the East is liable to prove a flat fallure on this coast, and the oftener the Santa Fé's business have probably discovered, but when a man once gets the confidence of western people he is of more use to a railroad company than a dozen brilliant eastern railroad men who come out "chuck" full of high-toned ideas. The proposition which seems to meet with the most favor and to be the brightest eastern railroad men in that Los Angeles which its essent people he is of more use to a railroad company than a dozen brilliant eastern railroad men who come out "chuck" full of high-toned ideas. The proposition which seems to meet with the most favor and to be the brightest eastern railroad man in the Bouthern Pacific managers get hold of a good man they keep him, and as long as he does his duty he may consider that he has a place for life. This is the reason why the Southern Pacific Company has such an excellebt system on the coast.

The general opinion among railroad men is that Los Angeles is to become the greatest railroad center west of the Rocky Mountains in a very few years, but it must be admitted that the Horizont in the fact in the favor and to be the same fall that the proposed site. The tracts are each bout 33 by 250 feet and front on each of the streets named above, and are directly adjoining the proposed boulevard between Los Angeles and Pasadena, which is a very important proposed boulevard between the As this is the day set for the Santa the greatest railroad center west of the the greatest railroad center west of the Rocky Mountains in a very few years, but it must be admitted that the schemes that have been set on foot during the past few months are progressing rather slowly. The biggest scheme on hand, namely, the Los Angeles, Utah and Salt Lake road, has made but little headway, although when the franchise was granted, a few months ago, the projectors promised to go to work at once and push the road through in less than fifteen months. The men work at once and push the road through in less than fifteen months. The men who are at the back of the move are amply able to build the road, but a ma-jority of them are in the East, and do Southern California are to have this not know how anxious the people of Southern California are to have this road completed as soon as possible.

The Owen Valley road is also hanging fire, although the people of Inyo county are almost crazy to get communication with the outside world. The Southern Pacific Company's plans for Southern California are also hanging fire at present, but it is very certain that railroad building will begin in samest in Southern California before many more months have gone by.

Naxt Sunday the new time-table on the line between San Francisco to the East will go into enect. It is proposed to make much faster time across the continent than ever before.

It is said by ticket agents that local travel is picking up daily. For a short time last month passenger business was duller than it has been for some time past. Overland travel is about as goed as it was at this time last year.

WILL NOT CO-OPERATE.

WILL NOT CO-OPERATE.

The Southern and Union Pacific peo-ple, who have been working so hard to ple, who have been working so hard to secure a reduction of 24 hours in the passenger time between this city and New York, feel very much discouraged over the action of the eastern lines in refusing to coöperate with them in making the new through time schedule. If the trains of the eastern lines were made to connect with the new fast trains of the Central and Union Pacific roads, the time from San Francisco to New York If the trains of the eastern lines were made to connect with the new fast trains of the Central and Union Pacific roads, the time from San Francisco to New York would be reduced from five days and such as the part of the control of the Central and Union Pacific or and the correspondents in New York. The fast train will be put on the line between San Francisco and Omuha next Sunday, but it will be of ne benefit to through passengers, as they must make a long wait at the Missouri River for a connecting train going east. There is only one rabortening the time. There is only one rabortening the time. The real objection of the Rock Island, Northwestern and Burlington to the Sheme is that they have lines of their own reaching west and active of the Rock Island, which reaches to the Rock Island, which resches to the R

J. K. Armsby of Chicago, a member of the California Canned Goods Association, has been delegated to represent the interests of the canned goods men and dried fruit shippers at the meeting of the Transcontinental Association to be held in St. Louis on Thursday. Mr. Armsby will ask for the desired reduction in rates on fruits. The Golden Gate special went out Tuesday with a full load of passengers. It brought in very few people on its arrival Friday night. The managers of the train say that the chief reason why the west-bound passenger lists are so much smaller than the east-bound is that the connection with the trains from the East at Council Bluffs is imperfectly understood by California und travelers.

They are but one block from the cable-road track, and quite hear the Gleudale and proposed Garvanza motor lines, thus making it quite accessible to both the driving and car-riding public. It is to be hoped that the people of East Los Angeles will generally rally round and heartily support this project.

Another proposition has been mentioned which would place the exposition, if the site were accepted, in a rather isolated locality beyond Mission road.

A CORRESPONDENT, Mr. B. G. Lee of Covina, writes to THE TIMES, denying that Gen. Clinton B. Fisk has producing what purports to be an interview with a reporter of the New York Voice wherein Gen. Fisk is quoted as declaring as follows: "You may tell my good prohibition friends the country over that they need not have the slightest fear about my drawing back from the advanced position which we occupy in the temperance conflict." Our correspondent asks this correction to be made in THE TIMES, which published the reverse statement that was recently sent out.

For fifty years past, or as long as steam communication has been regularly established across the Atlantic, there has been a spirit of rivalry be tween the ocean "greyhounds," as to which could make the quickest passage. The first steamer's record of fourteen days was considered something wonderful, but that was soon re duced to ten days. When the passage was made within a week, as it first was within the past five years, people thought the limit had been reached, but yesterday, the new Inman steamer City of Paris arrived at New York after the unprecedented run of five days, twenty-three hours and seven minutes. The end is not yet.

NEXT year's census will show many remarkable changes over that of 1880. The central line of population will be nuch nearer the Mississippi River than it was ten years ago. States and Territories. These amateur envoys doubtless expect to receive a large amount of honor and recognition at the French capital, and to have a good time generally, but in this they are bliable to find themselves badly mistaken. In his report on the Paris Exposition of 1878, Commissioner - General McCormick, speaking of these State and Territorial commissioners, says that their appointment was to the Government of France an almost inexplicable procedure; that it proved an empty honor, and that, as the authorities refused to recognize them, their position was anything but a pleasant one. Congressman R. R. Hitt of Illinois, the leading Republican member and prospective chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House in the next Congress, speaking on this sub-next Congress, speaking on this subject recently, said:

"I see that a number of gentlemen are going to the trouble of securing honorary commissions from Governors of States and Tetritories as commissioners to the approaching Paris Exposition. Now, I was in Paris in a diplomatic canacity during the previous exposition in 1878, and I know what trouble these honorary appointments caused, not only to the gentlemen who received them and thought they were of value, but to the United States commissioners and the officials of the French Government. In fact, Gov. McCormick, who was our Commissioner-General during the exposition of 1878, wrote to me while the bill was pending providing for the appointment of honorary commissioners to the present exposition, and upon the facts he presented the clause in the present bill authorizing the appointment of State commissioners was deliberately stricken out by Congress."

State Department officials say that if the position of the commissioners, who went out under State authority only in 1878, when there was a law authorizing their appointment, was an unpleasant one, it will be much worse this year, when their appointment is not only unauthorized, but virtually forbidden by law.

HILL VERSUS CLEVELAND.

Friends of Cleveland are alarmed at the discovery of the beginning of what promises to be a very well organized boom for Goy, Hill for the Presidency and they are going to do all they can to crush it. The death of Chairman Barnum was a signal for the Hill men to start in, and this they are doing by bringing forward Senator Gorman as a successor of Barnun on the Democratic National Committee. The election of Gorman means the delivery of the Democratic party, so far as lies in the power of the chairman of the committee, in the hands of the protectionists, led by Randall, Hill and Dana. On this subject the New York Herald published last week a column editorial, which contained the following very plain language:

the following very plain language:

"It is going to be an up-fill business to elect a Democratic President in 1892. It is going to be an impossibility if the party is to be led and managed that year by men, what don't believe in its principles and policies. No intifuses nor any possible manipulations can prevent the tariff question from being the question in that year. It is the only live question. To put a man tainted with the late-Mr. Barnum's opinion at the head of the Democratic National Committee would be fatal to Democratic success. If there are men of such opinions in the committee they owe it to themselves and to the party to get off. Their remaining there is unworthy and a swindle. It will-be resented by the voters, and rightly so. Mr. Cleveland made a bad mistake for his party when the gave countenance as leaders—and in he gave countenance as leaders—and in very numerous cases office—to men like he gave countenance as leaders—and in very numerous cases office—to men like Mr. Barnum.

"If there are protectionists like the late Mr. Barnum so wedded to the Democratic party that they will not leave it even on that issue that cannot be helped. But it ought to be understood at once that they must henceforth walk at the tail of the Democratic procession and not at its head. They cannot be trusted in any position of control, management, or influence in it. They ought to understand that if a Democratic President is elected in 1892 they will not be allowed to have office or influence outer his administration. The next Democratic President is elected in 1892 they will not pursue Mr. Cleveland's course in this matter."

THE Chicago Times has the follow ng, referring to the receipt of a dispatch by Mr. Palmer, from the President, asking whether he would ac-cept the office of Public Printer. From this it will be seen that Mr. Palmer bolted the third-party movement, and not only made no personal effort to obtain the position, but that he was absolutely unaware that his name was under consideration:

When Mr. Palmer gets his telegram it will be the first official knowledge that he has ever received that he was being considered in connection with the Printership, for at no time has he been a candidate in the sense of making personal application for the office. Secretary Haiford suggested him, Mr. Clarkson indorsed the suggestion, and a few personal friends helped the matter along by convincing the President that objections raised by other candidates were groundless. Not one of the Illinois delegation had anything to do with it, for none knew that Mr. Palmer was being considered until they read the announcement in the Times.

THE weather we are having is some what abnormal-more like that of an eastern April than a California May. THERE are fears of another outbreak of the Cheyennes and the Crows.

A MAYDAY RHAPSODY.

(SET TO THE MUSIC OF THE SUMMER BAIN.) It has been raining, and Nature's face has been washed clean. What a rare thing in California is a Mayday shower. It is as if Nature had scanned herself, and, remembering Eden, had said, "I am not quite so fair as in those stainless days of sinless glory. But why should I not be? Should Nature had scanned necessity. It is a most quite so it as in those stainless days of siniess lory. But why should I not be? Should here be any blot upon my fair skies, any tain upon my green-bosomed and flowers eweled earth? Ah. I see where the dust has hidden, and where the growing leaf is touched with brown. And there is perhaps a film over my skies, and the far mountains stand not forth as clearly as they might if my atmosphere were but more transparent. The deeps of these May skies shall be cleansed with rain; the intangible air shall be washed with my crystal water-drops; the mountains shall grow luminous through the purification which they shall bring, and blossoms shall anew lift up their heads and pour their tragrant incense through all the shining alsies beneath the sapphire roof of skies."

So, softly blew the winds, and afar from their hidden places gathered the clouds.

Gleaming like silver, down they drop, and the sleeping minds awake and toss them, or weave them sometimes into silver sheets, and fling them minds awake and toss them, or weave them sometimes into silver sheets, and fling them upon the earth. The tall, swaying trees brighten, and their shimmering leaves tremble as it with gladness. Bud and blessom turn their cups to catch the pearly drops. On the tips of grasses they tremble like a tear. The mountains are wrapped in translucent burple and grow royal in their covering. The little brooks find a tongue, and go gushing on adown the heights, singing in their blessed resurrection. The dust is laid, and leaf and tree and every growing thing is dressed in spotless purity.

THE BOSTONIANS.—The largest house of the season was assembled last night to listen to Balfe's Bohemian Girl. The vitality of this ancient opera is something of a surprise to the performers themselve of a surprise to the performers themselves, but it seems to be a perennial attraction wherever, it is produced, and last evening was listened to must attentively by an appreciative sudience, which applauded and redemanded the favorite and familiar airs with an enthusiasm which must have been most gratifying to the singers.

The performance was undoubtedly the best work the company has done thus far, and amply demonstrated its exceptional capacity in quality and training. The charm of the readition was in its general excellence; there are no "stars," so-called, but the company is apparently made up on the principle of getting the best available material for all the parts. While this effort may not have been perfectly successful in each instance, the general result shows a vast improvement over the one-or-two-star vastem, and is entitled to commendation. vast improvement over the one-or-two-sta system, and is entitled to commendation

The Armes court-martial has again brought to the front the dislike entertained by many army officers towards "West Pointers." It seems that Capt. Armes claims to have been persecuted by them. The discussion has also elicited a fact which will probably be surprising to many, namely, that out of the 250 captains in the army, only 12 were graduates of West Point. Of course, the proportion is much greater among the officers of lower grade, but it is evident that the West Pointers are credited with more influence in the army than they possess.

The United States is a pretty good missionary. Even the remote nations of the Old World are feeling the influence of a hundred years of American liberty. Forty years ago the Japanese form of government was a pure despotism—a despotism, however, which was, as a rule, tempered with justice and mercy. Japan has now a written Constitution, a Senate and House of Representatives, together with other incidents of responsible government. This great change is mainly attributable to the example and influence of the United States.

THE ATCHISON ROAD.

ITS DIRECTORS SUBMIT THEIR REPORT.

Decrease of Nearly $8,500,000 Net Earnings-The Expenses Increased-Cause of the Lessened Prosperity.

By Telegraph to The Times.
BOSTON, May 8.—[By the Associated trees.] The annual report of the directors of the Auchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway for the year 1888 was given out this even for the year 1888 was given out this evening. The gross earnings were $15.612,913, a decrease of $2,448,453. The operating expenses, including taxes, were $11,027,151, an increase of $618,757. The net earnings, deducting taxes, were $4,555,951, a decrease of $3,467,160. Of the decrease in gross earnings. ings, the loss on passenger business is $801,-000. The deficiency for the tweive months to December 31st, was $517.889. The sur-plus December 31st, was $7,889,620. The net urplus was $6,436,551.

The report says that even with the additional tarriff derived by the Atchison system tional tarriff derived by the Atchison system from extensions the actual number of passengers and ton of freight transported was considerable less than during the preceding year, and it is obvous that except for business coming to it from its new lines the earning must have shown greater decrease still.

"The reduction of business," the report says, "is due to various causes. The first is the unusually light crops for two years, and consequent depression of business. A community chiefly agric litural, such as that served by our system, does not accumulate wealth rapidly, and the loss of a crop for two successive years becomes almost disastrous. Naturally the railroads in such residue feel the mistortune of pood crops, with many influences working in practical combination to reduce the earning power of railroads. Their right to make any combinations for saif. ing in practical combination to reduce the earning power of railroads. Their right to make any combinationsfor self-protection has been denied by State and national enactments. The theory of these laws is radically wrong because they overlook the fact that public interest requires stability in rates not less than that they should be fair and reasonable. Nothing can be more certain than that unrestrained competition artificially stimulated by public sentiment is productive of far more evil than good."

lie sentiment is productive of far more evil than good."

The report says: "The long and shorthaul clause of the Interstate Commerce Act has operated to the disadvantage of the commerce of the Western States rates have been established by law which are ruinously low, and although our system has been commerciately free from this injustice, it will be easily seen that we cannot escape the effects. When rates in lowa are arbitrarily forced down, the difficulty of maintaining fair rates in adjuding States is immeasurably increased. Aside from com-

taining fair rates in adjoining States is immeasurably increased. Aside from competition there is in time of business depression a difficulty of maintaining the price of transportation when everything else has depreciated."

The report refers to the heavy reductions in coal and grain rates made in Kansas at the request of the Raliroad Commissioners on account of existing business depression, etc., and says: "Returning prosperity will no doubt materially diminish the demands made upon railroads for lower rates. It is believed by the directors that the new asso clation of western roads for the prevention of unnecessary and destructive wars of rates will be beneficial both to the public and the railroads."

Speaking of the increase in the dividend in the fair of 1887 to 7 per cent, which action was severely criticised, the report says: "There was every reason to believe at that time that the earnings of the road for the last half of 1887 would be found to be greater than for the first half of the year, but through the partial failure of the cornerop and other unforeseen causes the year formed a remarkable exception to the previous course of the company's earnings."

Of Oklahoma the report says: "There is every reason to believe that the earnings of the Atchison line will be largely increased by the settlement of this region."

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES. Their Original Purpose Not Faithfully Carried Out.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—|By the Associated Press.| W. O. Atwater, in charge of the work at the experimental stations established by the Agricultural Department, is preparing a bulletin which will be pub lished this year giving a sketch of the progress of education in agricultural colleges hnd schools. It is acknowledged that the purpose for which agricultural colleges were stablished in several States, and to which the Government contributed liberal grants of land and money, has not been realized. The colleges do not educate men for the farms, but for professions, and the tendency of their, teachings to draw young men from farms instead of fitting for work on them. Graduates of the common district schools of the State are qualified to enter, and they are taught the practical things of farm life in addition to literary branches of learning. The school had been opened but a few weeks when its accommodations were all taken, while the agricultural college proper has been struggling along for years with barely enough students to form a single class. the Government contributed liberal grants along for years with barely enough students to form a single class.

Mf. Rusk is also deeply interested in the establishment of short winter courses of lectures to young men on farms upon topics related to the successful conduct of their labors.

PARDON DAY.

The Governor Hearing Applica-tions—Brokers Barred Out. SAGRAMENTO, May 8.—[By the Associ-ated Press.] This was "Pardon Day" with Gov. Waterman, and over 60 applications for Executive elemency were considered. It is understood that several pardons and commutations will be issued within a few days. The Governor desires it published as notification to all prisoners that it is per fectly and absolutely useless for any one to expend one single solitary dollar in an effor to procure a pardon. He says that all that is necessary is for application to be made in conformity with the rules and regulations which have been issued for his office. Applications will be carefully considered and will receive favorable action, if sidered and will receive favorable action, if deemed worthy.

The Governor is especially vexed over a case that has just come to light, wherein the daughter of a prisoner has paid a legal "pardon broker" $500 to present the case of her father to the Governor, and yet the attorney has never made the least effort to secure a pardon for the prisoner. The Governor has instructed Private Secretary Boruck to write to Wardens McComb and Aull asking them to warn ail prisoners and Bornes to write to wardens McComb and Auli asking them to warn ail prisoners ap-plying for pardens against hiring lawyers or paying money to any one. ### THE RAILWAY INQUIRY.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS ON THE INTERSTATE ACT.

He Thinks Its Operations Cruel-Erastus Wiman Tells the Committee That Canada Desires To Be Annexed.

By Tel-graph to The Times.

NEW YORK, May S.—[By the Associated Press.] The Senate Committee investigating the workings of the interstate commerce law and Canadian roads doing business. ness in this country resumed its hearing

Francis Adams of the Union Pacific, Adams thought the interstate commerce law in many cases was cruel. "Those who obeyed it lost. Those who evaded it profited." "I should like, however, to see profited." "I should like, however, to see it universally obeyed and given a fair trial," he said, "and since January 1st I really believe the law has been better obeyed than ever before. I know, for instance, that large shippers who heretofore practically dictated their own terms do so no longer. The Interstate Commission, I think, are doing good work. The greatest agree in the control of the olong good work. The greatest service the Commissioners could do the railroads in general would be to prosecute some of the offenders. Nothing would have a better offerd on the attention.

general would not by proceeder some of the offenders. Nothing would have a better effect on the situation."

Adams thought that a common railroad law between Canada and the United States and a legalized pool would be a good thing, and would tend to bring about a solution of the present troubles in reference to the Canadian roads.

"If you think the interstate law a good thing, where does all the opposition come from?" asked Senator Blair.

"You must remember that the country has been built by a system of distribution which the interstate law shakes to its foundation. The long and short-haul clause gives in effect to smaller cities many of the advantages heretoforce exclusively enjoyed by the larger cities, and the consequence is that in a city like San Francisco the opposition is very strong."

Pravident Hill of the St Paul, Minneape.

that in a city like San Fanoisco use opposition is very strong."

President Hill of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railroad was the first witness called after recess. He gave an account of the probable route of further commerce between Asia and Europe. The Canadian Pacific road, he said, had a fast line of steamers running from the western terminus to Asia, and from the eastern terminus to Asia, and from the eastern terminus to Liverpool.

"Is there much foreign trade, Asiatic trade, coming over the Canadian Pacific road?" asked Chairman Cuilum.

"Considerable. Some comes over our road destined for Omaha."

"Why does it take such a round-about course."

road destined for Omaha."

"Why does it take such a round-about course?"

"Probably because 5 or 6 cents a hundred dounds is an inducement. We have a differential rate and time is no object. It pays to take advantage of the lower rate."

Erastus Wiman spoke strongly in favor of commercial reciprocity. Any attempt to shut out the Canadian lines from operating in this country would be a serious blow to the western American farmers, and would be badly received by the Canadian people."

"Is it policy for the American people," asked Senator Blair, "to help with their resources to build up a great nation with a hostile, or at least alien, connection on the north of the United States?"

"The tie which binds Canada to England is but a sentiment. New York today, in a certain sense, is far more important than all of Canada. Canada cannot stay as she is. She must either become an independent republic or join with the Jnited States. There are many forces at work in Canada. The hopes of a great party there rest entirely upon one old man. After the death of Sit John Macdonald will come the deluge."

Wiman spoke at considerable length on the various Jesuit, Catholic and Orange movements in Canada, but said the farmers, fishermen, lumbermen and miners all favored commercial union, which of itself was a step toward annexation.

The New Enemy of the Scale Doing

Two months age THE TIMES gave an count of the finding in Australia by Assistant State Entomologist Alfred Koebele of a beetle and a fly that would knock the scale bug silly. It was then announced that specimens of the orange trees were on their way to this country. Since that time the beetle and fly have arrived, and upon being placed in juxtaposition to the cottony-placed in juxtaposition to the cottonycushion scale have made short work of him. Experiments made by J. W.

Wolfskill have proved eminently satisfactory. The beetle is called the Australian lady bird, and destroys the scale faster than it can breed. The fly takes four months to mature, and attacks the adult scale bug only. The trees in the orchard have been badly infested by the best, and are now nearly free from the scale.

The advent of the Australian harbingers of a new day has put another face on the seemingly futile fight which orange growers have been making to destroy the scale. The little fighters are being? distributed as rapidly as possible, but not fast enough to meet the wishes of orange growers. From the 137 beetles delivered to Mr. Wolfskill in March, there are still three large colonies on his place, and 4000 have been distributed in this city and the surrounding country.

The method of work by the beetle is surrounding country.

The method of work by the beetle is interesting. He shoves his nose under the cushiony scale, and in a second it is thrown aside, and the eggs which it covers are swallowed by the beetle beetle. The little fellow proceeds rapidly, and never seems to get enough. The beetle lays a tiny red speck of an egg. From the larva comes the pupa, and at that stage does not eat. The back of the pupa splits open like the husk on a walnut, and the beetle comes out. When it finds a mate it begins its legitimate life-work and breeds very rapidly. The fly takes longer to mature, but is no slouch in getting away with the scale.

He was in the room for some time, but of course, as the proceedings are secret, nothing could be learned of the nature of his testimony. It is supposed, however, from what has come out heretofore, that it was directed principally to what he had found out about the corrupt use of money since he took charge of the police department. The Chief has had a private detective at work almost ever since he entered on the discharge of his duties, and has undoubtedly found out a great deal about the inside workings of various schemes,

A copy of the Post and Intelli-gencer received here contains a long account of the Wickersham case, account of the Wickersham case, wherein a young woman is involved, and which places Lucas in a decidedly unfavorable light, and last night a letter was received by the police authorities from a prominent attorney at Seattle, asking them to send him Lucas's record in this city, at the same time, saying that criminal proceedings would be commenced against him.

Last night a nicely dressed woman came to the police station and wanted Chief Burns to send an officer to get her baby for her. She said that she was suing her husband for a divorce, and that he had stolen her child. The Chief told her that she would have to swear out a complaint before a justice, and get a warrant for his arrest, before he could do anything. The woman then left without giving her name or saying where she could be found.

G.G. Green—Dear Sire: I am frequently troubled with severe colds, and the only remedy that will relieve me of them is your Boschee's German Syrup. I have used it for more than twelve years. It is a constant household companion with me. Our merchant here procured it first at my solicitation, and says be has sold a great many bottles. It is a very popular remedy in this section. Every person who has used it speaks in the highest terms of its merits. I do not know of a single case it has not cured. I first used it in Vermont, where I lived before coming here. I advise every one to use it, as it is certainly the best cough medicine I have eyer known. I have tried nearly all of them at different times. Yours respectfully. Mosss Gray.

a wretched constitution and reveled in the domains of mind. To him in the domains of mind. To him poetry was conscience, religion, politics and philosophy. On completing his studies he became a regimental surgeon and practiced at Stuttgart. When his "Robbers" appeared, the Duke of Wurtemburg began to regard him with suspicion, forbade him writing again, and finally put him under arrest for fourteen days. He then fied to Mannheim, where he produced two plays, toiled incessantly and got into debt. In 1785, at the invitation of the Duke Schiller, went to Weimar, where gayety reigned supreme. Some time after he accepted the professorship of history at Jena, with no salary, and wrote his history of the Thirty Years' War, sketched his great drama of Wallenstein, loved and married Lottie von Lengefeld, who proved worthy of him, and enjoyed the friendship of Fichte and William von Humboldt. Schiller's later years were a constant struggle with disease, which at length terminated his life. Princes and people delighted to honor him, and posterity has not tarnished but brightened the luster of the honors bestowed upon him while he lived.

THE ASTOR PLACE RIOT.

THE ASTOR PLACE RIOT.

Conspicuous among the riots which figure in American annais is the Astor Place outbreak on May 9, 1849, occariace outbreak on May 9, 1649, occasioned by the jealousy of the celebrated English actor, Macready, who was then filling an engagement in New York, and his American rival, Edwin Forrest. The theater was attacked by the mob, and Macready barely escaped with his life.

COUNT VON ZINZENDORF.

COUNT VON ZINZENDORF.

Among the founders of religious sects no mean place belongs to Count von Zinzendorf, who was born in Dresden May 26, 1700. By the death of his parents his education devolved upon his grandmother, the Baroness von Gerstorf, who gave a religious turn to his life. On his return to Dresden, after the completion of his studies, the Count was made a member of the Saxon State Council. But political life was not to his taste, and he returned to his country seat in Lusatia. While there, a wanderer named David informed the Count of the sufferings of the remnants of the followers of John Huss in Moravia on account of persecution. The Count invited them to settle on his estates. Subsequently he studied theology, and was appointed Bishop of the Moravians at the request of Frederick Will Fing of Presis. He subsequently visited England, where he received with consideration by Wesley, and in 1741 he went to North America in company of his day here had noned the Moravian colone of Bethlehem. Zinzendorf was the mithor of more than one hundred works in prose and verse. His hymns are still used by the Moravians, though objectionable on account of their plous indecency. He died May 9, 1760, on his estates at Herrnhut.

GAY-LUSSAC.

GAY-LUSSAC. To Gay-Lussac, the celebrated French chemist and natural philosopher, beongs the credit of first applying ballongs the credit of first applying ballooning to scientific purposes on a large scale. He was born December 6, 1778, and while investigating the subject of terrestrial magnetism, in September, 1804, he ascended in a balloon to the altitude of 23,040 feet above the sea level, and there made observations which convinced him that magnetic power is but slightly affected by elevation. Among his other discoveries was that of cyanogen. In 1809 he was made a professor of practical chemistry at the Polytechnic School and a professor of physics at the Sorbonne. Gay-Lussed died in Paris, May 9, 1850.

COUNT DE LALLY. That India is today English and not That India is today English and not French, is largely due to the imbecilty of Louis XV., who seldom failed to reward conspicuous service with imprisonment or the scaffold. Dupleix, who had partially succeeded in establishing the French power in the East, was left unsupported, and thrown intorison on his return to France. His associate, Count de Lally, whose heroic resistance had astonished all India, mounted the scaffold on the Place de Gréve, at the close of the day on the 9th of May, 1763. His friends were refused permission to accompany him to the place of execution, and only the parish priest was allowed at his side, and he was gagged like the lowest criminal, he was gagged like the lowest criminal, when he resolutely mounted the fatal ladder amidst the howls of the multi-tude. Voltaire pronounced the execution a murder committed with the sword of justice.

Yesterday morning about 3 o'clock Officer Todd, who rooms back of the Brunswick House, on San Fernando street, was awakened by a citizen, who said that there was a crazy man in the hotel, and they wanted him removed. Todd went over to the house, where he found a man named A. W. Dunbar shouting, yelling and smashing things generally. Dunbar has been drinking heavily for some days, and, to all appearances, was suffering from an aggravated case of jim-jams. The patrol wagon was sent for, and Dunbar was removed to the police station, where he was booked for medical treats removed to the police station, ere he was booked for medical treat-
